Andrew is a restructuring specialist who guides businesses through complex and challenging situations.

With more than eight years of business advisory and restructuring experience, Andrew is responsible for leading project teams, and developing, facilitating and implementing engagement strategies. Andrew's experience covers a breadth of industries including mining and resources, healthcare, retail, property, construction and engineering, agriculture, hospitality, transport and logistics, and manufacturing. In addition to executing all forms of formal Australian insolvency engagements, he specialises in financial modelling and analysis, sale of business transactions, financial and operational improvement and independent expert witness reporting.

Andrew works with clients to develop solutions to complex situations, using creative problem-solving and an outcome-driven approach. His experience working with businesses and people in financially challenging situations has given him a unique skillset that is highly sought after. Previous assignments have often required an urgent rationalisation of operations and implementation of financial controls, expedited sales campaigns, and a balanced, influential and empathetic approach to dealing with a broad range of stakeholders.

Engagement Experience —

- Brite Advisors: Investigative account's report in relation to a $1.1 billion investment scheme and the misappropriation of pension funds.
- Healthscope: Advisor to syndicate of 28 lenders in relation to solvent restructure of $1.6 billion in senior secured debt.
- Booktopia Group Limited: Voluntary Administration of Australia's largest online book retailer, including the preservation of the business and a going concern sale.
- Marine Produce Australia: Voluntary Administration of Australia's largest grower and supplier of ocean-grown barramundi, 'Cone Bay Barramundi'.
- Quintis Limited: Receivership and 'loan to own' of ASX-listed agriculture and investment scheme business with c.US$250m debt held by bondholders and led by BlackRock Asset Management and Investments.
- Various Independent Business Reviews across industries such as mining, property, construction, transport and retail. These engagements involve working with senior management and internal finance functions to obtain necessary information; conduct risk analysis of forecasts; analyse security positions; and consider business improvement initiatives.
