Claire has more than 17 years' corporate restructuring experience including working on formal restructuring engagements and contributing to both the Learning & Development and Professional Practice teams at McGrathNicol.

Claire started her corporate restructuring career in a client-facing role, working on a range of corporate insolvencies. She then pivoted to the Learning & Development team, designing and delivering technical insolvency content.

Since joining the firm in 2017, Claire has been an integral part of the Professional Practice team at McGrathNicol. Claire focuses on providing resources to support the delivery of high-quality outcomes on insolvency engagements, upskilling and educating teams, and facilitating programs to manage McGrathNicol's professional risk areas.
